

Usability Test for Kaleb Stone's Print User Manual

Objective: The goal of this test is to see how usable Steam is for the purpose of purchasing and downloading a video game – which is Steam's primary purpose. This test will also seek to determine how helpful the print user guide created and provided by me, Kaleb Stone, is for walking users through the process.

This is a consent form. Please read the following information thoroughly and sign this form:

I agree to participate in an online usability test using a computer. During the usability test, I will be interviewed about my experience, my thoughts, asked to find information or complete a specific task using a student developed print user manual.

I understand and consent to the use of the results by the VT student researcher. I understand that the information is for research purposes only and that my name and image will not be associated with any data collected during this study. I relinquish rights to any video or audio recordings collected during this session.

I understand that participation is voluntary and that I may stop participating in the test at any time.

By signing this form, I confirm that I have read and understand the information provided above. I agree to participate in the study and give my consent for the researcher to use data collected during the study for their class research purposes.

If you have any questions after today, please contact me, Kaleb Stone, at kcstone04@vt.edu.
